“Children today are tyrants. They contradict their parents, gobble their food, and tyrannize their teachers.”

Socrates (470-399 B.C.)

For the first time
four generations are working side by side.

Silents: 1926-1945

Baby Boomers: 1946-1964

Gen Xers: 1965-1975

Gen Y: 1976-1999

Which of the following is important for a Baby Boomer (Born 1946-1964)?

Build parallel careers.

Build a stellar career.

Build a legacy.

Build a portable career.

Which of the following is important to Generation Xers (Born 1965-1975)?

Give me balance now, not when I'm sixty-five.

Support me in shifting the balance.

Help me balance everyone else and find meaning myself.

Work isn't everything; flexibility to balance my activities is.

Which of the following feedback does Gen Y (Born 1976-1999) prefer?

Sorry to interrupt, but how am I doing?

Once a year, with lots of documentation.

Feedback whenever I want it,
at the push of a button.

No news is good news.

You know you're a "Silent" if . . .

You remember when TV was all black & white

You remember actually ballroom dancing, not watching it on TV

You use a computer, but you're still afraid you'll break it

You listened to Ricky Nelson on the radio

Silents - Influential People & Events

You know you're a "Boomer" if . . .

You thought you might one day join the Mickey Mouse Club

You used a typewriter to write your term papers

You saw every episode of "Leave it to Beaver"

You remember Woodstock

Baby Boomers - Influential People & Events

You know you're a "Gen Xer" if . . .

You remember Atari and Asteroids

You couldn't wait until 1999 to play "1999" by Prince

One of your first favorite movies was "Star Wars" or "ET"

You typed your term papers on a word processor

Gen X - Influential People & Events

You know you're a "Gen Y" if . . .

You've always had an answering machine or voice mail

You were using a computer by the time you were learning to read

You've always had cable TV with remote control

The Internet has existed as long as you can remember

Gen Y - Influential People & Events

THE HILLS

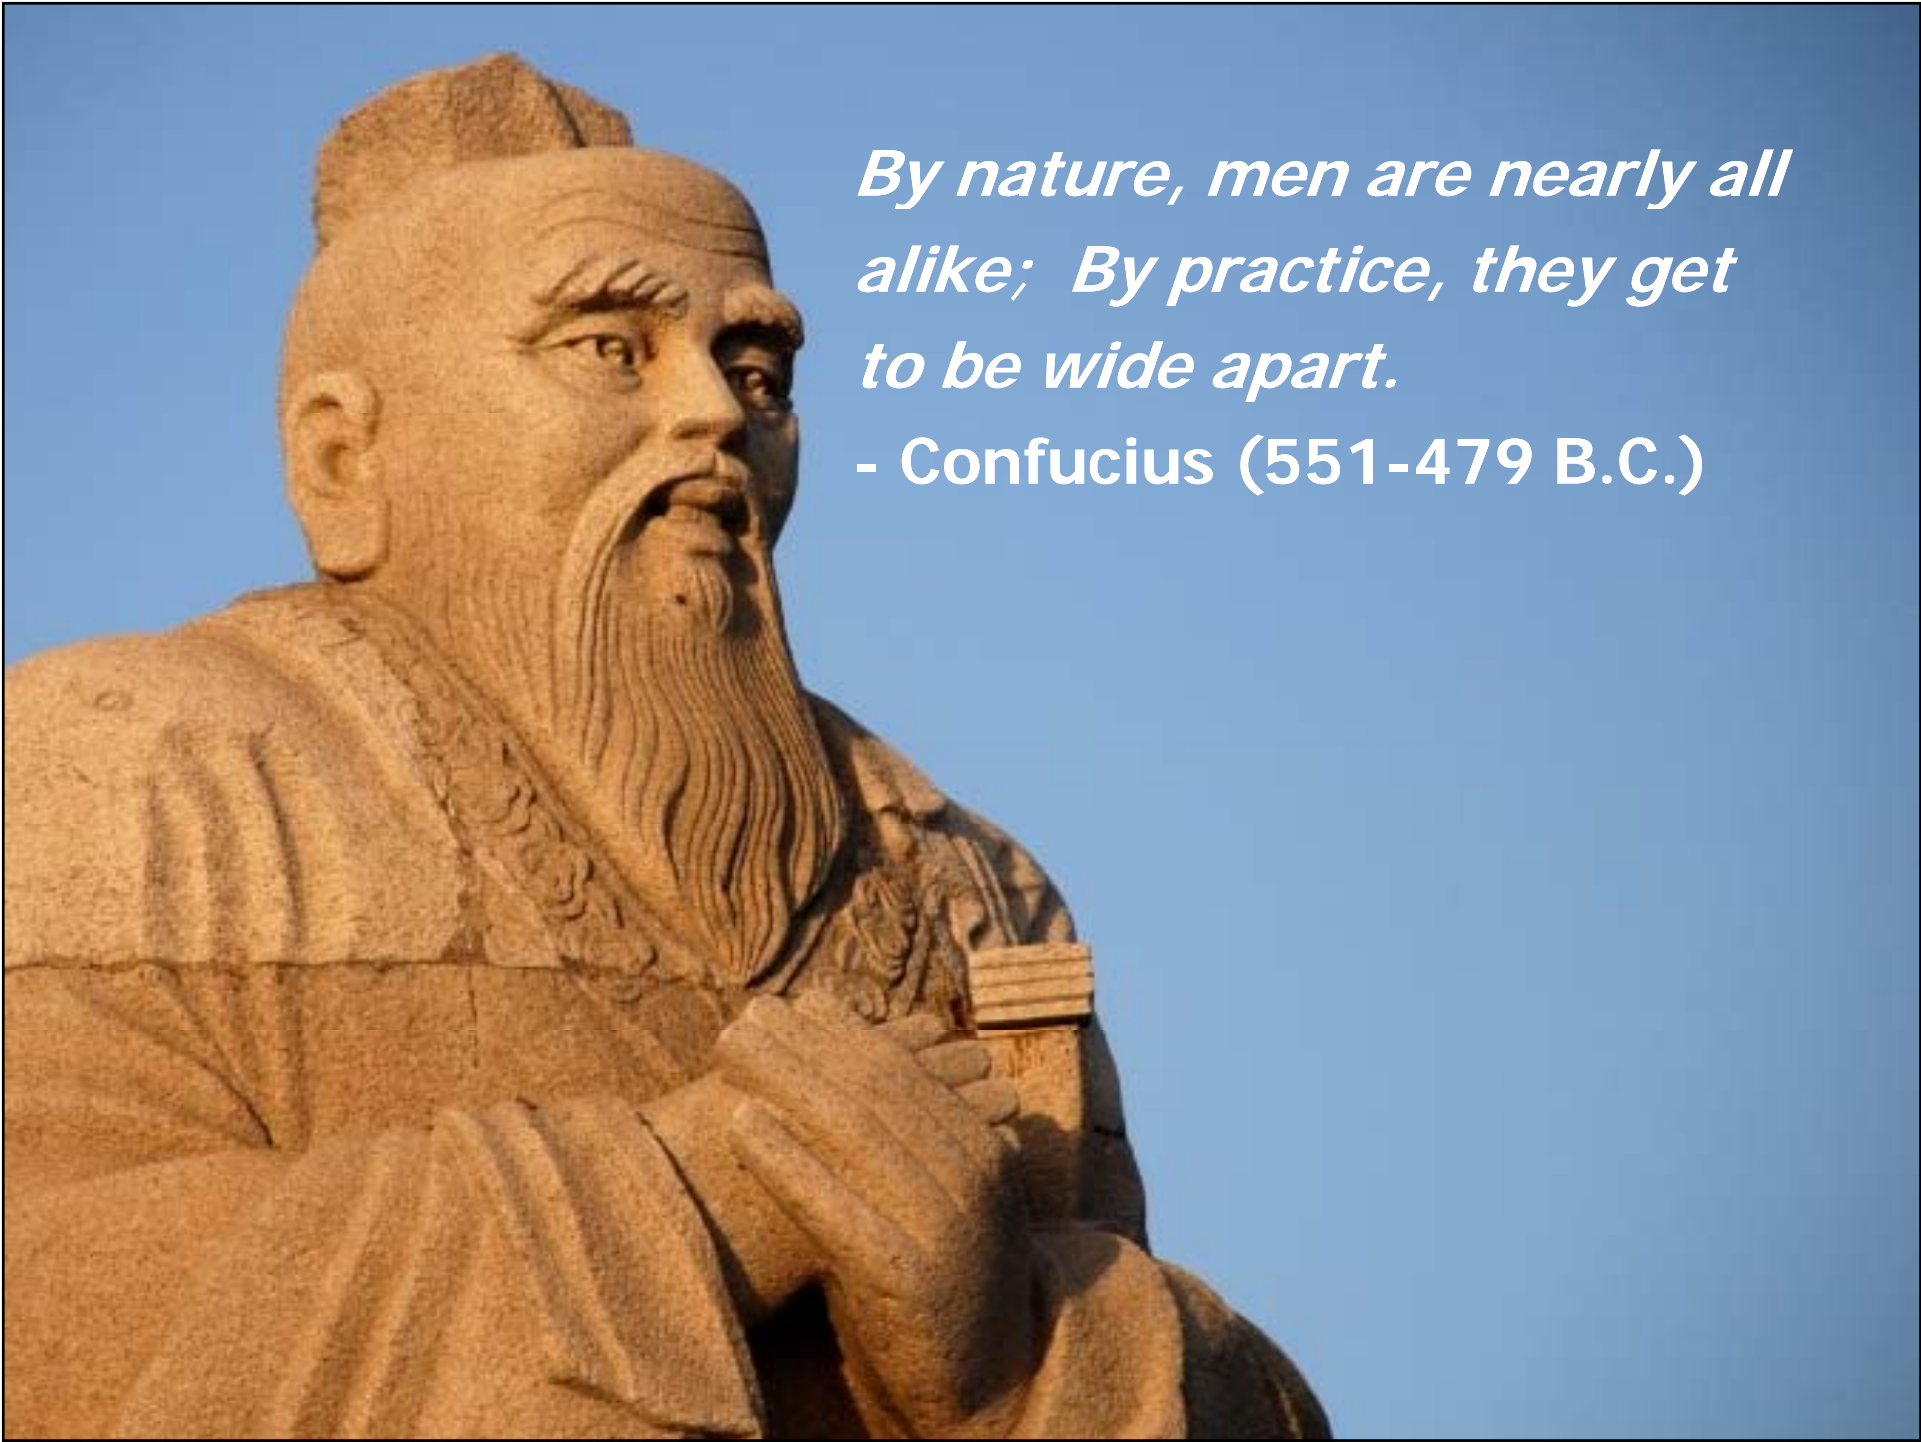

Consider this . . .

Fundamentally, people want the same things regardless of their generation.

You can work with all generations without driving yourself crazy.

By nature, men are nearly all alike; By practice, they get to be wide apart.

- Confucius (551-479 B.C.)

Who are we?

Silents (Born 1926-1945)

A sense of community, loyalty,
"waste not, want not"

Baby Boomers (Born 1946-1964)

Pay your dues, competitive, optimistic

Generation Xers (Born 1965-1975)

Rewarding work now, self-reliant, highly adaptable

Generation Y (Born 1976-1999)

Work-life balance/blending, flexible,
motivated, globally concerned

What Different Generations Expect

Create a Member Value Proposition

What do we want?
What's important to us?

Silents and Baby Boomers: Show appreciation for their experience, use their expertise, let them know
they are needed, put them
to work, keep them
engaged.

What do we want?
What's important to us?

Generation X and Y:
Rewarding work now,
self-reliant, highly
adaptable, work-life
balance/blending,
flexible, motivated,
globally concerned.

Custom tailor your message.

What might be very exciting to one generation may be boring to another.

Building a Bridge Across Generations

A photograph of a traditional Japanese-style wooden bridge with a curved railing, set against a backdrop of lush green trees. The bridge is made of weathered wood and has a series of arches in its railing. The perspective is from the middle of the bridge, looking down its length towards the background.

- One size does not fit all
- Leverage the skills and competencies available in all age groups
- Build a brand that values diversity
- Respect differences in communication styles
